Rob has recently been transferred to Mankato where he is being treated at Immanuel St. Joseph's Hosp.

Rob returned home from Afghanistan on January 12. That following Friday he had a stroke while at a friends house. He was taken to a local hospital in Watertown, NY and there they decided to send him to Walter Reed in Washington DC. After a week of testing he was diagnosed with pancreatic cancer. We are in the process of moving back to Minnesota so that we can be near family and friends.
